INTRODUCTION

“FIEFS, CASTLES AND VILLAS. Historic routes” is a set of different itineraries that guide the visitor through the discovery of the Upper Tiber Valley, a vast area where the landscape takes on unique traits of unparalleled beauty.

The project is the result of an intensive interdisciplinary effort made by the municipalities of San Giustino, Monte Santa Maria Tiberina and Lisciano Niccone. The itineraries have been designed to promote the resources of the area, especially the ancient historic road network and the past presence of independent fiefdoms (the Marquis of Monte Santa Maria, the Republic of Cospaia, the Marquis of Sorbello with the Curia of Reschio), with their castles, towers and aristocratic villas. These itineraries are often alternative to the roads that are commonly used today. In fact, in addition to the important historic towns that characterize the area, you will be able to discover unfamiliar landscapes and little known cultural assets, small rural towns, forts, ancient abbeys and country-side churches; all still well-preserved to this day.

The artistic-historical, landscape and naturalistic qualities that distinguish each particular municipal reality have been identified and enhanced through the creation of different itineraries that are structured according to homogeneous areas and organised along various types of routes (paved roads, local roads and foot trails) that can be covered in different ways (by car, by bicycle, on foot). The itineraries are displayed on appropriate informational signs: general panels that are present in towns and points of greatest tourist attraction, and trail signs installed along the route. Enjoy nature and magnificent views: with the help of the guide and the map of the routes, travellers can choose the route that is best suited to their individual need, whether a more or less experienced excursionist, a fit cyclist or a family with children.

THE LOCAL AREA

The area is covered mostly by thick woods and downstream it is characterized by an agricultural landscape of small cultivated plots. It stands between the Upper Tiber Valley to the east, and the Valdichiana to the west. Its morphological conformation presents a series of narrow valleys scattered with smooth and continuous elevations. At the centre it is dominated by the scenic ridge that culminates with Mount Favalto (1082 m), which gives birth to the Aggia Torrent, whose valley crosses the area in its entirety, finally merging with the Tiber Valley. To the north it is bordered by the northwest foothills of the Tiber Valley, crossed by the Cerfone Torrent, while to the south it is delimited by the heights overlooking the narrow valley of the Nestore Torrent.

The territory is mostly covered by woods of chestnut trees and oaks, pine woods and wide plateaus traced with numerous paths. As you walk, you can frequently meet fallow deer, roe deer and squirrels and admire the impressive flight of kestrels and buzzards. The undergrowth is rich in herbaceous species and shrubs and many species of mushrooms and truffles can be found.

The walled town of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina (690 m), built on a pointed hill, overlooks the surrounding area. From its central position on a clear day one can see, at the opposite extreme horizons, some of the highest peaks of the Apennines. On one of the hills that are situated on the border with the Tuscan territory of Monterchi, is Lippiano (410 m). It is recognizable by the castle with its imposing tower and by the walls and towers surrounding the town. This ancient village is the second most important of the municipal area.

The peculiarity of this territory, from a historical point of view, is its geographical position: border area along a cross connection between the towns of Etruria to the west and the axis of the Tiber Valley to the east. Although the main travel axes were historically concentrated mainly in the Tiber plain below, nevertheless a series of transversal communication routes developed towards the High Tiber Valley, connecting it on the one hand to the Valdichiana, and on the other to Emilia Romagna and Marche. It is likely that many routes, once used in Etruscan times as migratory herding routes, had been expanded and regularized in the Roman period for the purpose of moving military contingents. Among these secondary routes that are both half-way up the hills and on high ground, we should mention the ridge that crosses the territory of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina, from Mount Favalto and Mount Cedrone, to Città di Castello. Along this ancient road, now partly walkable as a mountain trail, there are the ruins of Marzana Abbey and of its watchtower, and some archaeological sites, such as Col dei Fabbri and Mount Cedrone.

HISTORY IN BRIEF

The presence of several settlements and autonomous communities that arose near shrines and sacred places in ancient times, of "oppidum", villas and rural settlements of Roman times is well-documented. Only at the end of the 6th century B.C. does Monte Santa Maria Tiberina assume the appearance of a fortification, and more precisely a "castrum", placed on the border between the Lombard territory and the Byzantine corridor, the strip of land from Ravenna to Rome that separated the Lombard domains of the Duchy of Tuscia from the Duchy of Spoleto.

The existence of a settlement surrounding the church of Santa Maria is documented by a testament of the year 1073. Between the 11th and 12th century the castle, called "Munte S. Marie", and at times "Monte Bruno", was occupied by a certain local lord, loyal to the emperor, probably belonging to the Lambardi family. In 1198 the castle was pulled down, or at least heavily damaged, by order of Pope Innocenzo III, as it had been the place of imprisonment of Bishop Ottaviano. We know for certain that in 1204 the fort was back in full working order. Around 1250 the castle became the stronghold of Guido, Marquis of Montemigiano, who from that moment onwards gave his branch of the family the title of Marquis of Monte Santa Maria, giving up the castles he owned in the valley of the Nestore and Niccone Torrents in favour of Città di Castello. The Marquis Guido descended from a powerful and wealthy family, called the "marchiones", rooted in the territory since the eleventh century, and linked to Ranieri, Marquis of Tuscany from 1014 to 1027. Between 1260 and 1263 the castle went under several attacks by Ghibelline factions of Città di Castello and Arezzo. Both, in fact, had placed their expansionist aims on the strategic stronghold. We can temporally place the expansion and fortification of the castle walls, the construction of mills, buildings and of a large tank, between 1323 and 1327, when the Marquis Guido, called "Collotorto", withstood a siege of nearly three years, thanks to the military support of Perugia and the nearby Guelph towns.

In the middle of the 14th century, as a result of the campaign of recapture called by the Pope in Central Italy, the Marquis Ugolino, fearing that the expansionist ambitions of the papacy would end up invalidating the legitimacy of his extensive domain, reached Emperor Charles IV in Pisa to obtain a warrant of protection and of investiture, which was signed on May 16, 1355. This warrant, given at first to Ugolino and then to his grandchildren, naming them "marchionibus de Monte S. Mariae, et Sacre Imperi fidelibus", recognizing the lands and castles of Monte Santa Maria, Marzana and Lippiano with their committees and districts and the Curia of Reschio, placed the Marquisate among the official imperial fiefdoms called "major" or "sovereign". These fiefdoms, with political autonomy, had a direct relationship with the emperor of the Holy Roman Empire. Moreover, the warrant clearly settled the privileges and rights enjoyed by the fiefdom. These consisted in the freedom to make peace and war, the possibility to enter into alliances and the right of high and low Justice for civil and criminal cases (mero e misto imperio), with the possibility of exercising the right of death penalty (potestà di gladio). In fact, there was the "Hill of Forks" with its gallows, as we see depicted in the paper of Titi of 1676, both in Monte Santa Maria and in Lippiano. The fief was also granted the right to coin money (ius faciendi monetam), as evidenced by numerous documents of the seventeenth century that show the existence of a coin, called "Montesca" or "del Monte", or of a florin, which circulated in the Marquis. Finally, another privilege was to possess the Campo Franco or "hill of the duel" that was in Fonte Nuova near the Church of Sant'Agostino. The chronicles narrate there were both one for fighting on foot and one for duels on horseback.

In the second decade of the 15th century, the Marquis Cerbone ceded the Castle of Sorbello with the Curia of Reschio to his brother Lodovico. From the year 1424 the Marquis of Sorbello enjoyed a jurisdiction that was separate and autonomous from the Marquis of Monte Santa Maria.

The fiefdom had always been unquestionably inherited on the principle of "birth right", but in 1532 the Marquis Girolamo, to avert a possible dispute between the heirs to the succession, instituted the policy of the regency of the fief on the principle of “seniorato”. Thus, there came to be four distinct branches, all equally called Marquis of Monte Santa Maria that for the following twenty years, amid written agreements and exchanges of property, built their private residence in Monte. Overlapping the structures of the old castle, they built palaces with Renaissance facades that overlooked the main street of the village. After a few decades, one of the four branches moved its residence to the Castle of Lippiano.

At the end of the 16th century, the Marquis Bartolomeo first adopted the title of Marquis Bourbon del Monte Santa Maria, the title which, during the following century, all members of the family availed themselves of. The reasons that led the marquises to add the name “Bourbon” to their noble title are still today a subject of research. The assumption made by the Marquises themselves, i.e. that they descended from a certain Arimberto Baron of Bourbon who came to Italy to follow Charlemagne, finds no reliable historical proof and has been widely rejected by modern critics.

During the 17th century, when mode and rules of administration of the Marquisate had been defined, the Marquises turned their attention to the big cities of Central Italy, taking important political, military and honorary positions within the courts of Florence, Rome, Venice, Urbino, Pesaro and Ancona.

In 1699 Emperor Leopold signed a certificate of investiture that recognized the Marquises with the title of “Borbon marchionibus Montis S. Mariae”, confirming the rights and privileges of the fiefdom, condition that remained unchanged until 1815 when, following the Congress of Vienna, fiefdoms were abolished. The marquisate was thus annexed to the Grand Duchy of Tuscany and became the Comunità di Monte Santa Maria in the province of Arezzo, with the seat of power in Lippiano, and under the Vicariate of Anghiari. After the unity of Italy, the administrative situation remained unchanged, with the exception of taking the name of Comune (Municipality) of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina. It was not until 1927 that it was annexed to the province of Perugia and in 1944 the municipal office was permanently transferred to Monte.

THE ITINERARIES

The following itineraries have been designed to guide the visitor through the discovery and the understanding of the area and its natural and landscape values, while strolling along the paths and trails that are part of the ancient road network connecting the castles, villages and religious complexes of the fiefdom.

Today's municipal boundaries coincide with those of the Marquis: they have remained unchanged since 1250. This characteristic allows us to still easily locate the defence and control systems of the territory that consist of guard towers and castles on its boundaries and, for the most part, all in visual contact with the high tower of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina. The historic road network mainly consisted of routes along the ridge or hillside, and not along the paths of the valley, which were unhealthy and unsafe. Today, the main connections, however, are on the plains running along a road network that was structured at the end of the nineteenth century.

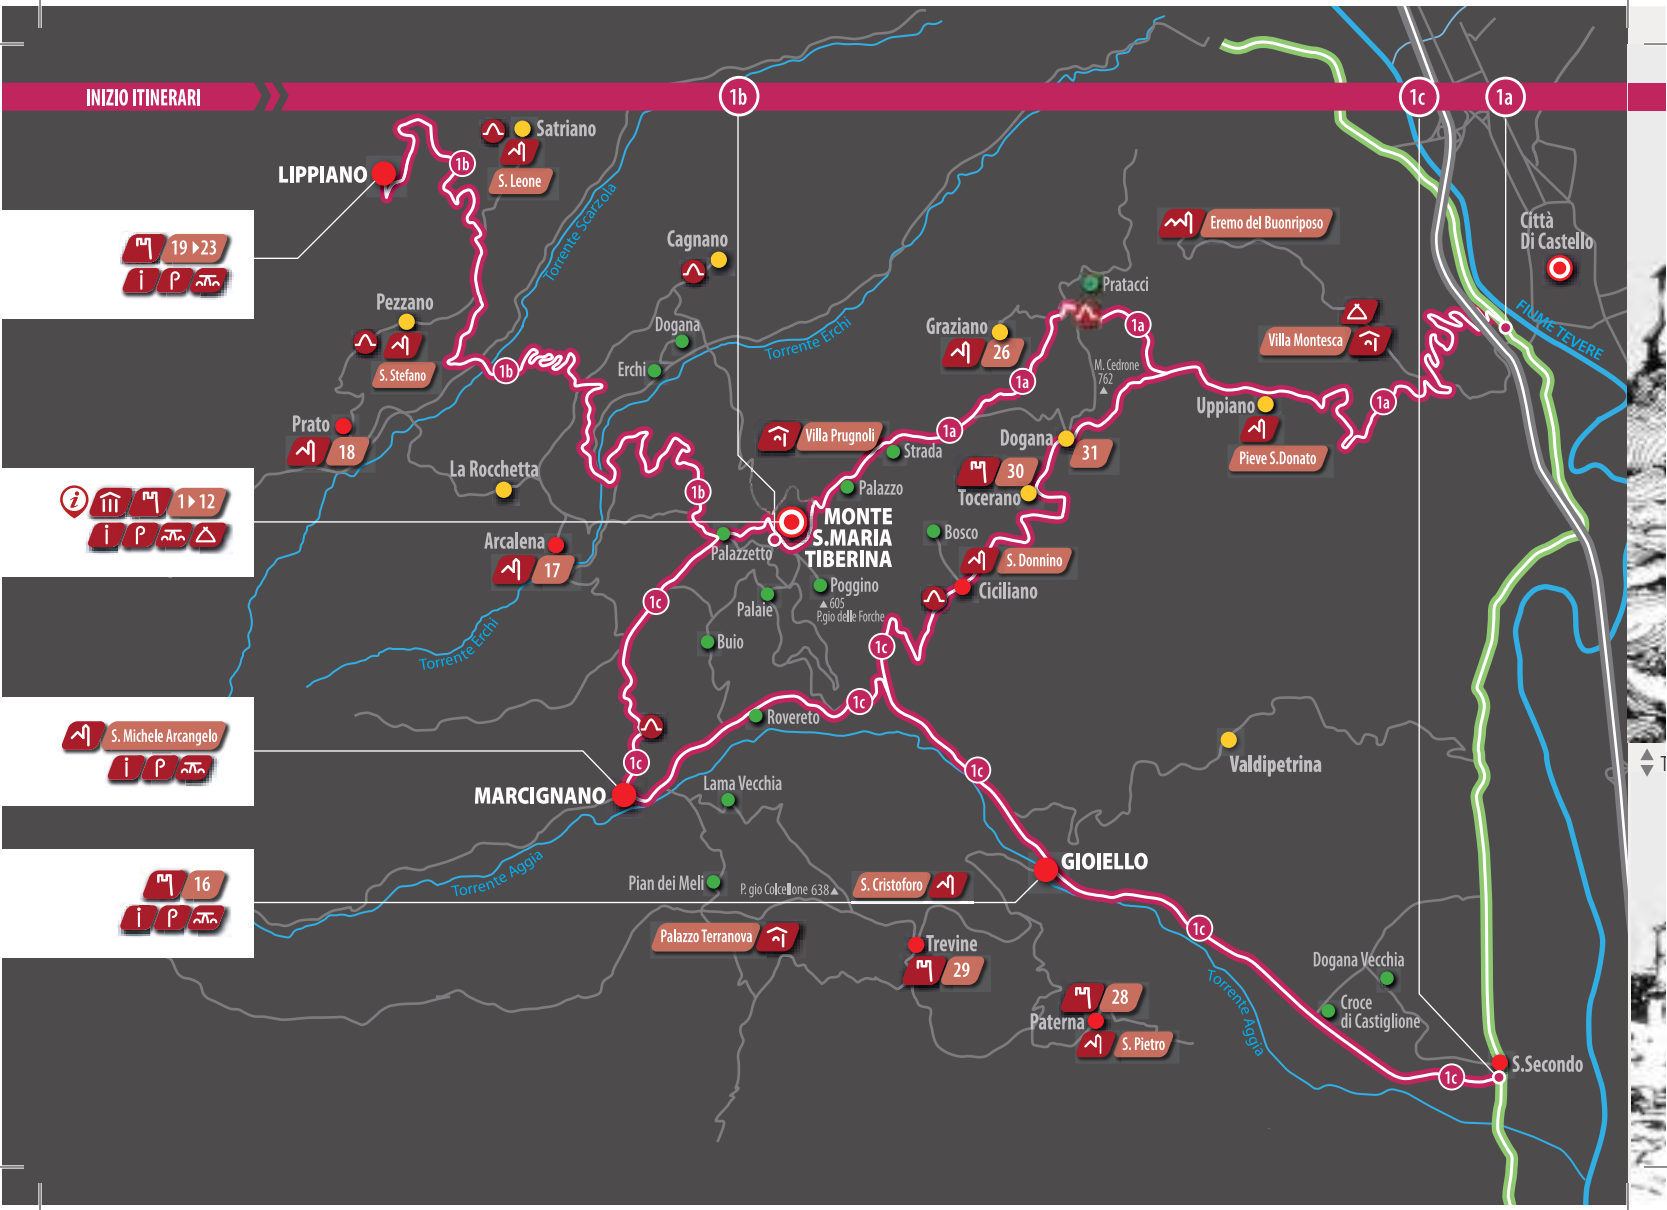

The identification of historic roads was made possible by studying historical maps, comparing the locations of archaeological sites and the analysis of information derived from historical research carried out in the area. The routes can be fully enjoyed from the historical aspect after visiting the exhibition "A feudal imperial state in Central Italy: The territory's history from its origins to the Marquisate of Bourbon del Monte" staged at the Palazzo Museo in Monte Santa Maria Tiberina.

Five routes have been identified according to different areas: the first, mainly along the modern road system, crosses the territory in both the east-west and north-south directions and touches the main conurbations of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina, Lippiano, Gioiello and Marcignano; the remaining four are arranged around homogeneous areas, both as regards to the historical aspects and to the orographic ones, starting from the main towns and winding up in the hills or down in the valley.

WANDERING AROUND THE ANCIENT MARQUISATE

Itineraries (1a • 1b • 1c)

Monte Santa Maria Tiberina • Gioiello • Marcignano

1a) THE "MONTESCA" ROAD

Length: 10,7 km

Elevation gain: 400 m uphill

Accessible: by car

Time: 20 min. without stopping

◆ The castles of Lippiano and Monte - Angelo Ascani, Monte Santa Maria and its Marquises, 1978

The proposed route is one of the oldest roads that connected the Upper Tiber Valley and the Val di Chiana. It winds along the ridge passing Mount Cedrone and arriving at "castrum S. Mariae", as the fortified town of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina was called in the Middle Ages. From here the ancient path continued along the ridge, climbing over Mount Favalto and down to Arezzo. The road that goes from Città di Castello is called "Montesca", and constitutes the historic road that starting from porta San Florido, near the district once called of the "Marquises", and after passing the Villa Montesca, arrives in "Monte", the name which is habitually given to the village in the Upper Tiber Valley.

► From Città di Castello (288 m) take the Via Aretina (S.R. n. 221) near the roundabout of Piazza Porta San Florido, following the signs to Arezzo. After crossing the bridge over the Tiber river, at the junction turn right towards Arezzo-Monterchi, (be careful not to follow the signs to the left towards Monte Santa Maria Tiberina, otherwise you will go through San Secondo). Continue for about 250 meters and take the second road to the left, following the signs for Villa Montesca. The Montesca road (S.P. n. 103) rises steeply, passing under the E45 highway and, after about 2 km, arrives at Villa Montesca (430 m), built in 1800 by Baron Leopoldo Franchetti. The complex, which now houses the Centro Studi Villa Montesca, is in a big park full of rare botanical species. Continue along the road, past the right fork that goes to the camping, and you will reach the village of Uppiano (596 m), a small village built around the ancient church of San Donato, mentioned, along with the church of Santa Maria, in a will of the year 1073. The road continues more gently uphill until it arrives at the foot of Mount Cedrone (762 m) where one meets the left fork to Ciciliano. Continuing straight along the road one would go around the hill, while the ancient road used to pass near the hamlet Dogana and crossed the ridge of Mount Cedrone, re-joining the present-day road near the hamlet Strada. Continuing straight, you pass Pratacci and, after 1.5 km, you enter into the territory of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina, passing on your right the hamlet Graziano with the church of Saint Lucia (26), dated between the 13th - 14th centuries. In front of you can see the outline of the walled town of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina with the high tower getting nearer and nearer, until you reach the hamlet Strada from which there is a beautiful view from the north-east of the Palazzo Bourbon del Monte. After passing through Palazzo (540 m), the road climbs steeply towards the town, finally arriving at a large junction where you can stop and park the car to visit the old town of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina (687 m), with its castle walls and gateways, the church of Santa Maria Assunta and the Bourbon del Monte palaces (1-12). From this hilltop village you can also set off for pleasant excursions, following Itineraries 2a (Monte Santa Maria Tiberina-Piantrano-Marzana) and 2b (Circuit of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina), towards the discovery of a territory which is now rather wild, nestled among woods and clearings, but which once pulsed with life amid forts, towers, castles and abbeys.

1b) From “CASTRUM MONTIS S. MARIAE” to “CASTRUM LIPPIANI”

Length: 10,5 km
Elevation gain: 90 m uphill - 350 m downhill
Accessible: by car
Time: 20 min. Without stopping

The route winds through two valleys, that of Erchi Torrent and then of Scarzola Torrent, running in between two of the most important castles of the ancient Marquisate: the “Castrium Montis S. Mariae”, centre of the fiefdom since 1250 and residence of the Marquis regent, was built perched on an impregnable hill, surrounded by defensive walls; the “Castrium Lippiani”, built around the ancient church of San Michele Arcangelo in the twelfth century, and officially recognized among the castles of the fiefdom in the imperial diploma of 1355, reclined in the hills representing an important outpost in the northern limits of the fiefdom. The Castle of Lippiano, now privately owned, was one of the most important dwellings of the Marquis Bourbon del Monte. Furthermore, in 1815, after the suppression of the fiefdom and the annexation to the Grand Duchy of Tuscany, Lippiano became the headquarters of the Comunità di Monte Santa Maria Tiberina in the province of Arezzo, until 1944, when it was brought back to its current location Monte.

► From Monte Santa Maria Tiberina (672 m) you start to descend, following the signs for Lippiano. Continue for 500 m until you reach a junction near Palazzetto (615 m) and turn right. The road descends a steep slope with several bends and after 2.5 km you will reach a junction at the crossing over the Erchi Torrent (432 m). Go straight on following signs for Lippiano. If you turn right in the direction of Città di Castello, and continue along the road, at a certain point you will come across the Via Aretina (S.R. n. 221) near Lerchi. This road along the valley of Erchi Torrent is a popular route for those coming from the northern towns of San Giustino, Citerna and Città di Castello. Returning to the junction on the Erchi Torrent, continue straight along the S.P. n. 103 that starts to climb again and, after a tight bend, you will arrive at the pass (496 m), where you will meet the left fork to Arcalena, a small village with the fourteenth century church of San Luca, while a few meters ahead on the right you will pass the junction to Cagnano, a small rural town which offers a beautiful panoramic view. The road begins to descend into the valley of the Scarzola Torrent, which is reached after about 1.5 km at an intersection (388 m): on the left the road to Prato, on the right the road to Città di Castello that, continuing along the valley, reconnects to Via Aretina near Mezzavia. At the crossroads go straight towards Lip- piano, pass the signs for Satriano to the right, and after a few bends, passing through rolling hills, you arrive in Lippiano (410 m), where you can stop, park your car and visit the village. At its centre, surrounded by walls and towers, is the Castle, now privately owned. Up to 1917 it was the residence of the Marquis of the Lippiano-Ancona branch. Outside the walls, on the other hand, there is the ancient village and the Jewish ghetto (19-23). Lippiano is also the starting point of Itineraries 3a (Circuit of Lippiano), 3b (Lippiano-Monte Santa Maria Tiberina) and 3c (Lippiano-Citerna), which run along the hills surrounding the ancient castle.

1c) CLIMBING TO THE "MONTE" FROM THE AGGIA VALLEY

Length: 12,2 km
Elevation gain: 390 m uphill
Accessible: by car
Time: 30 min. without stopping

The route starts from San Secondo, an ancient village along the S.P. n. 105 road that goes from Trestina to Città di Castello, through the valley of the Aggia Torrent. Passing by the ancient fortified village of Gioiello it climbs steeply up to the ridge, offering unexpected views. As an alternative, having passed Gioiello, you can reach Città di Castello along the ancient road that at first crosses the historic villages and forts of Ciciliano and Tocerano, then the old Dogana at the foot of Mount Cedrone and finally goes back to the road called "Montesca" that climbs up from Città di Castello.

► From San Secondo (278 m) take the S.P. n. 101 road following the signs for Monte Santa Maria Tiberina, past the town of Croce di Castiglione and the left fork to Paterna, and you will reach Gioiello (330 m) after about 4.5 km. If you turn left at the signs for Trevine, you can leave your car and visit the historic village with an ancient watch tower (16), or decide to take the Itinerary 4a (Circuit of Gioiello) that runs along the heights that overlook the valley. Going straight for 2 km along the road that runs alongside the river, you will reach the crossroads for Ciciliano; if you turn right you can alternatively choose the route that climbs to Monte Santa Maria Tiberina passing by Dogana at the foot of Mount Cedrone, as described below. Instead, if you remain on the same road, go straight, crossing the bridge over the Ricastelli ditch and after 400 meters turn left following the signs for Marcignano. After passing through Rovereto (364 m) you continue along the valley, passing the left fork to Pian dei Meli and Poggio Colcellone, and after about 150 m turn right and you will reach the ancient houses of Marcignano (402 m), near the church of San Michele Arcangelo. Here you can leave the car and decide to take the Itineraries 4b (Marcignano-Sant'Agnese), 4c (Circuit of Marcignano) and 4d (Marcignano-Monte Santa Maria Tiberina), which run through the dense woods of the hills that line the narrow valley. From the square in front of the parish church, you start to climb. Go straight and after a few bends in the middle of the vegetation, a nice panoramic view from the southwest of the height which is dominated by Monte Santa Maria Tiberina can be seen to the right. We then come to an intersection (572 m), where you meet the ridge road. Turn right and, after about 1.1 km, you will reach the hamlet Palazzetto (554 m). If you continue straight on, you will reach a large intersection where you can stop, park the car and walk to visit the old town of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina.

An interesting alternative route that ascends to Monte is the one, having passed the village of Gioiello, which leads through Ciciliano and Tocerano up to Dogana, finally reconnecting to the Montesca road that climbs from Città di Castello. From Gioiello, continue along the road for about 2 km and bear right at the fork in the road towards Ciciliano and Tocerano. You start going uphill and after about 1.5 km you arrive at the historic village of Ciciliano (520 m), where on your left you can admire a nice panoramic view of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina from the south-east. Continue, passing the left fork to Bosco, and then, also on your left, the small church of San Donnino. After 1.5 km you will reach the fortified village of Tocerano (660 m) (30), with the former church of San Faustino, which is now incorporated within a tourist accommodation facility. Further down the road, after about 600 m you will see on your left the historic housing cluster of Dogana (31) (695 m), with the former church of Santa Maria also now incorporated within the accommodation facility. Here you can stop, park the car and walk to take the Itineraries 5a (Dogana del Monte Cedrone - Vecchia Dogana di San Secondo), 5b (Circuit of Mount Cedrone) and 5c (Dogana del Monte Cedrone-Monte S. Maria Tiberina), along the ridge that separates the municipal area from the Tiber Valley. Returning to the main road and continuing for approximately 1 km, you will reach the intersection with the Montesca Road: on the right you descend towards Città di Castello, while turning left, after about 5 km you reach Monte Santa Maria Tiberina.

2a) FROM MONTE S. MARIA TIBERINA TO MARZANA

Length: 10 km

Elevation gain: 450 m uphill, 170 m downhill

Accessible: by car and bicycle, on foot to Piantrano; on foot from Piantrano to Osteria

Time: 3,30 h

The itinerary follows the old ridge road, passing near fortresses, rural centres and religious complexes, which were once populated but that are now in ruins in the midst of the woods. The first segment, approximately 4 km long up to Piantrano, can be done on foot, by car or by bike, while you have to walk for the remaining 6 km up to Osteria.

► You set off from Palazzetto (615 m), a town near the intersection with the road to Lippiano, and follow the direction of the CAI path n. 155, along the paved road towards Marcignano. Pass San Martino and Calberia (554 m) and continue straight. After 2 km you will reach Col dei Fabbri (630 m), of archaeological interest because of the discovery of a Roman villa. After 1.5 km you get to Piantrano (635 m), an ancient fort with the church of San Lorenzo (13). After 500 m on the right there is an open space where you can leave the car and walk, near the intersection of the CAI paths n. 155 and n. 156. Following the CAI path n. 155 you pass Poggio dei Contadini (749 m), Poggio Sorbiglione (827 m) and Murcia del Soldato (766 m), which marks the intersection of the CAI paths n. 155 and n. 155a with a pile of stones. Continue for 1.5 miles until you reach Marzana (805 m) with the nearby Abbey of San Giovanni Evangelista (14) now in ruins but with history that dates back thousands of years. There is no definite information on when the first Benedictine cluster was built, but from the twelfth century the "Monasterium Marzani" is mentioned among those that depended from the Diocese of Città di Castello. The monastery was very rich, and it employed at least forty priories and churches located in the neighbouring dioceses. Built on the remains of a pre-existing structure, of which there are two remaining columns with crudely sculpted capitals clearly of early Christian manufacture, today the church has a rectangular plan, the façade is gabled with a bell tower, a very simple portal and a window surmounted by a small bezel. Continue uphill until you arrive at Osteria (889 m) which is the arrival point of the route, near the junction with the CAI path n. 152 coming from Il Corso.

2b) CIRCUIT OF MONTE S. MARIA TIBERINA

Length: 10 km
Elevation gain: 200 m
Accessible: on foot
Time: 3,00 h

The itinerary continues in altitude with little elevation gain, in the woods surrounding the high hill of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina.

After going along the ridge road, the route turns to the opposite side offering beautiful view on the hills that dominate the valley of Padonchia with Lippiano, Citerna and Monterchi.

► From Palazzetto (615 m) to Piantrano (635 m) the path coincides with the first part of Itinerary 2a (Monte Santa Maria Tiberina-Piantrano-Marzana), until the next junction, where we turn left along the CAI path n. 155. At the next crossroads, after a short climb, turn right taking the CAI path n. 153a that winds in the shade of the woods. You pass Grignano (675 m), the ruins of the house of casa Cerri, with a fountain just below the house, until you get to La Rocchetta (540 m) and the intersection with the CAI path n. 153 that from now follow it to the point of arrival. At the crossroads called Poggio del Cogno (531 m), turn right and after about 400 m take the path that goes down to the left.

The deviation is situated along the road before arriving to Arcalena and has been indicated on the trunk of an oak. Go downhill until you pass the Erchi Torrent (440 m), cross the road and climb up to Petralta (530 m). Shortly after you arrive at the junction with the main road and, turning right, you will soon get back to Palazzetto, the starting point of the route.

2c) CIRCUIT OF ARCALENA

Length: 9 km
Elevation gain: 360 m
Accessible: a piedi
Time: 3,00 h

The route runs up and down along the hills surrounding the valley of the Erchi Torrent with far-reaching and restful vistas towards multiple directions. The silhouette of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina, with its clear-cut profile against the blue sky, accompanies us along the way, offering itself from different viewpoints.

► We set off from Arcalena (524 m), a small village which is reached from Monte Santa Maria Tiberina by going down towards Lippiano, past the fork to Città di Castello and bearing on the next fork to the left. After about 1.5 km of gravel road you come to the small village where you can leave your car. After visiting the historic village of Arcalena (524 m) and the ancient church of San Luca (17) walk back for about 250 m and turn right taking the CAI path n. 153 which drops steeply. The deviation is indicated on the trunk of an oak. Walk down and pass the Erchi Torrent (440 m), then cross the road and climb up to Petralta (530 m). After a while you get to the junction with the main road. Turn right and go uphill for about 350 m along the paved road to the junction of Palazzetto (615 m). Turn left and walk up to Monte Santa Maria Tiberina, after 500 m you come to a large intersection near the campsite (633 m). From here, follow the signs for the CAI path n. 150c that descends to the valley of the Erchi Torrent, passing by Villa Prugnoli (590 m), until you cross the stream (400 m). Cross the road, continue straight and go in the direction of Dogana until you get to Colle (526 m). At the intersection with the gravel road turn right and after 500 m you get to Cagnano (540 m), a small rural village on the ridge, which offers a beautiful view of the valley below. If you like you can alternatively go straight along the ridge, still following the n. 150c path, until you cross the Route of St. Francis that from Citerna leads to Città di Castello. Go back along the road and after 1.5 km you will reach the paved road, turn left and after a few meters turn right, following the signs to Arcalena. After 850 m you pass the Poggio del Cogno (531 m) and continue straight on the road until you get to the starting point.

2d) CIRCUIT OF FAVALTO

Length: 11 km
Elevation gain: 180 m
Accessible: on foot
Time: 3,00 h

A circular itinerary that takes you through dense woods and chestnut groves alternating with green grassy clearings, passing near the ruins of ancient towns that are now abandoned and touching the tops of Mount Favalto. The route offers natural scenic views not to be missed.

► The starting point is Il Corso (853 m), which is reached from Lipiano. Take the road to Ranzola, and having passed it, go towards Marzana at the next junction. Once in Il Corso, it is advisable to leave the car and walk as the road is bad. Follow the signs for the CAI path n. 152 and after 1.5 km you will arrive at Osteria (889 m). After about 500 m. turn right following the CAI path n. 154, going downhill towards the Locco valley until you pass the stream (864 m). Proceeding halfway along the ridge you get to the intersection Roceto, an ancient village in ruins. Remain on the CAI path n. 154 and walk up to Poggettino (879 m). Continuing on the high road, you pass the ruins of Favalto da Piedi (959 m) first, then Favalto di Mezzo (938 m), and finally Favalto da Sommo (1006 m), all three places being still inhabited up to the early twentieth century, living off herding and waiting for the important livestock fair that was held in Marzana. The path does not touch the top of Mount Favalto (1082 m) but it is worth making a small digression from the established route to enjoy the view that opens up from the top of the mountain. After about 2 km you arrive at the intersection of the CAI path n. 558, leading to Mount Dogana (906 m) and then descending to the ValdiChiana, and the CAI path n. 155, to be followed in the direction of Osteria. Having passed Mount Girato (1013 m) after 1.5 km you arrive at Osteria and finally, after a further 1.5 km, to the starting point.

2e) CIRCUIT OF MARZANA

Length: 12 km
Elevation gain: 490 m
Accessible: on foot
Time: 4,30 h

The route winds through ghost towns now abandoned by man, that for centuries were important safeguards that guarded the borders of the Marquis along major roads. Marzana with its Benedictine Abbey and its Watchtower is a particularly interesting site from a naturalistic and historical point of view.

► You set off from near the ruins of the Molino Nicola (490 m) which is reached from Marcignano by driving along the valley of the Aggia Torrent for about 5 miles until you reach a clearing on the left, where you leave your car. From here, follow the directions of the CAI path n. 156, going uphill and you will soon reach the ruins of the church of San Bartolomeo near a crossroads. Continue straight on following signs for the CAI path n. 155a. Continuing uphill you reach Petriolo (652 m), the cluster of evocative abandoned houses that were once an important fortress of the Marquis. As you continue, you reach the intersection with the CAI path n. 155, marked by a pile of stones called the Murcia del Soldato, a simple memorial for those who died far from home. Continue to the left and you will quickly reach Marzana (805 m). Go past the ruins of Abbey of San Giovanni Evangelista

(14), now in ruins but with a thousand-year history. Continuing along the path you will reach the intersection of Osteria (889), turn left, continue for a few hundred meters and you will come to a fork in hamlet Poggio (890 m), where you leave the CAI path n. 155 and turn left following the CAI path n. 156 in the direction of La Torre. Soon you will reach La Torre (15) (825 m), ancient fortification that guarded the outer boundaries of the Marquis, now severely degraded but still impressive and towering in the shade of a dense chestnut. The trail descends steeply arriving at a crossroads near the ditch where you turn left following the CAI path n. 156 that runs along the Aggia Torrent and soon returns to the starting point.

INIZIO ITINERARI

THE HIGH GROUNDS OVER THE VALLEY OF AGGIA

Itineraries (4a • 4b • 4c • 4d)
Gioiello and Marcignano

4a) CIRCUIT OF GIOIELLO

Length: 10 km

Elevation gain: 270 m

Accessible: by car and bicycle, on foot

Time: 30 min. by car - 3 h on foot

The itinerary offers a circular route among fortified villages and forts, once important outposts on the southern borders of the feud: Gioiello, Trevine and Paterna. All three have been listed since 1355 among the castles belonging to the Marquis. They are still now well-preserved and welcoming, they also offer, from unusual points of view, pleasant panoramas. We suggest a 5 km deviation to Petroia to visit the ancient Abbey of Santa Maria and Sant'Egidio, built in 960 by the Marquis Ugo, founder of the family of the Marquis of Monte Santa Maria.

► From Gioiello (330 m) (16), the historic village with an ancient wachtower, take the road towards Trevine. Going up along the slope and after passing the church of San Cristoforo on the right, which is placed on top of a hill, we arrive, after about 3 km, in the historic village of Trevine (530 m). The town centre (29) is well preserved and welcoming. It was a fortress built to control the roads that connected the feud with the Nestore Valley. From here you can choose to leave the car and walk for about 5 km (time: 1.30 h) along the ridge, up to Sant'Agnese (600 m), going past the Poggio Colcellone (638 m), the right junction to Pian dei Meli and following from here the signs of the CAI path n. 157, until you get to the cypress-lined road that takes you to St. Agnes. Returning to the main route, from Trevine you go back for about 1.5 km to the junction to the right, near which you turn taking a narrow gravel road that descends slightly between rows of firs. Proceed straight for 200 meters through the rural hamlet of Maiano (415 m), cross the Maiano dam (350 m), an artificial lake, and go up for about 1.5 km to the historic village of Paterna (420 m). Ancient fort and curia (28), it is still recognizable by the watchtower, now incorporated among the houses. Not far from here is the church of San Pietro. Continue along the road, descending for about 1.2 kilometres, until you get to a junction: the road to the left takes you back to Gioiello, covering about 2.7 km after turning left at the fork in Molino del Signorotto (300 m), while, if you turn right you can make a detour of about 5 km up to Petroia to visit the Abbey of Santa Maria and Sant'Egidio. Of this ancient Benedictine complex, now part is used as a parish church, part is in ruins and the rest is privately owned. It is still worth to visit the church in Lombard-Romanesque style and the beautiful crypt under the transept and apse.

4b) FROM MARCIGNANO TO SANT'AGNESE

Length: 10 km
Elevation gain: 210 m uphill
Accessible: by car and bicycle, on foot
Time: 30 min. by car - 3 h on foot

The itinerary runs through the valley of the Aggia Torrent, crossing the river at the foot of its source, climbing through thick woods along the slope up to the ridge and finally getting to St. Agnese, where you can enjoy the wide view of the Mount Favalto on the left and the ridge that connects it to Monte Santa Maria Tiberina on the right.

► From Marcignano (400 m) you go down to the junction with the road that runs along the valley of the Aggia Torrent and turn right. On your left, after about 200m, you reach the junction that takes you to Prine, turn down the road that runs alongside the sports field and you come to a clearing in front of the cemetery, where you can leave the car and walk about 500 meters to the rural village of Prine (436 m) with the ancient church of San Biagio (27); the small building dates back to the twelfth century and is one of the most dilapidated of the entire municipality. Take the main route again, along the road that runs through the Aggia Valley to the west and, once passed the hamlets Molino di Valle and Il Locco, after about 5 km you will reach the junction to Molino del Nicola (490 m), departure point of Itinerary 2d (Circuit of Marzana). Remain along the paved road that begins to climb up the slope and after about 1 km reaches the small village of San Martin in Pereto (560 m). As you continue, after a few hundred metres, you come to the right fork on the road towards Mucignano (700 m), a small village which is about 1.5 km. It is worth making a detour to enjoy the panoramic view of both valleys: the Aggia and the Nestore. Take the main route again and continue straight towards Morra, after about 1.2 km you will reach Campo del Colle (607 m), continue for 1 km until the left turn towards St. Agnese, where you leave the paved road and continue along the gravel following the directions of the CAI path n.157. After about 500 m you will reach St. Agnese (597 m), the arrival point of the route which offers a beautiful panoramic view. From here, you can choose to walk along the ridge and reach Trevine, a walk of about 5 km.

4c) CIRCUIT OF MARCIGNANO

Length: 10 km
Elevation gain: 340 m
Accessible: on foot
Time: 3 h

The itinerary winds through the thick forests of the northern slope of the valley of the Aggia Torrent, meeting old farmhouses, historic towns and old parish churches, all testimony of a former secondary road network that connected ridge paths to the valleys below.

► From Marcignano (400 m) you go down to the junction with the road that runs along the valley of the Aggia Torrent and turn left. Along a stretch of paved road and at the first intersection (374 m) take a right turn, following the directions of the CAI path n. 157. Continue for about 300 m up to a junction where you take the path to the left, leaving the path n.157. Continue beyond the rural settlement of Lama Vecchia (456 m) and at the next crossroads, take the middle path keeping to the right, past two houses, until you get to the rural settlement of Montison-doli (522 m) where, near the crossroads, you take the path to the left that goes up to Poggio Colcellone. Walk for about 1 km, passing a cultivated field on the right and, staying on the trail keeping to the left, go around Poggio Colcellone (638 m), arriving after about 300 m at the intersection (602 m) with the ridge path that connects Trevine to St. Agnese. Turn left, continue straight, passing a path to the right and then after a few meters one to the left, until you reach the village of Trevine after about 800 m (530 m), an ancient fortified village (29). After the rest stop, take the route in the opposite direction until you get to the junction with the trail coming from Poggio Colcellone, where you turn left and, continuing straight ahead for about 1.5 km, you reach the junction with the CAI path n. 157. Follow the path towards St. Agnese. After about 1.1 km, having passed the rural hamlets Meone Vecchia and Meone (620 m) you will meet the right fork in the gravel road that goes down into the valley. Take this gravel road and walk downhill for about 2 km in the thick woods until you get to the fork on the left that goes to the village of Prine (436 m), with the ancient church of San Biagio (27) that can be reached in a few minutes. Continue straight and after 500 m reaching the paved road (380 m), turn right. After 200 m you are back to the starting point.

4d) FROM MARCIGNANO TO MONTE S. MARIA TIBERINA

Length: 4,5 km

Elevation gain: 330 m uphill, downhill 45 m

Accessible: on foot

Time: 2 h

The proposed route is a real historical revisitation, along what once was the road used to get to Monte from the mills in the valley of the Aggia Torrent, passing the foot of "Hill of Forks" and near "Hill of the duel", place names that bear witness to the privileges and rights enjoyed by the Marquisate, i.e. its total autonomy in imposing laws, rules and sanctions in the administration of the feud.

► From Marcignano (400 m) you go down to the junction with the road that runs along the valley of the Aggia Torrent and turn left. Walk along a stretch of paved road for about 800 m to the hamlet Molin del Prato (365 m) where near the junction to the left, you take the CAI path n. 157 towards Monte Santa Maria Tiberina. Take the gravel road uphill, passing through hamlet Lustro (420 m) and reaching, after about 900 m, the rural hamlet of Buio (510 m) from which you can admire the hill upon which the village of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina stands. Continue straight on and at the next junction turn right, pass the rural hamlets of Malerba and Palaie (500 m) and, always following the signs for the CAI path n. 157, you will come to a junction with the S.P. n. 103. Cross the road and walk along the steep climb that ends in Poggino (593 m), name of the place where there used to be the last house before arriving at Poggio delle Forche (605 m), the hill where sentences were carried out, according to the right to proclaim death penalty that the Marquis regent had. After a few meters, at the next intersection, turn right, near a plateau in hamlet Fonte Nuova, where there probably was the "campo franco" for duels, one of the few existing in Italy. At the crossroads, cross the road and take the opposite path leading to the promenade that runs along the walls of the village, turn left and you will soon arrive at Porta Santa Maria. Walk up through the alleys of the village to the main square (687 m), the arrival point of the route.

5a) FROM DOGANA OF MOUNT CEDRONE TO DOGANA VECCHIA OF SAN SECONDO

Length: 8 km
Elevation gain: 25 m uphill, 460 m downhill
Accessible: on foot
Time: 2 h

The following itinerary follows the ancient road that ran along the scenic ridge connecting the peaks of Mount Cedrone, Poggio Rota and Poggio Cadinieri and dividing the valley of the Aggia Torrent from the plains of the Tiber. Two ancient customs are the point of departure and of arrival of the route: the first one, Dogana, on the hillside of Mount Cedrone, would be met at the border of the territory of the Marquis when coming from Città di Castello; the second, called the Dogana Vecchia of San Secondo, was attributable to the territory of Città di Castello.

► From Dogana (695 m), old historic housing cluster with the former church of Santa Maria (31), turn right along the provincial road in the direction of Ciciliano following the signs for the CAI path n. 151a. Continue for about 1 km, passing the ancient fort of Tocerano on the right (660 m), now used as a tourist facility where you can enjoy a beautiful view towards the hill of Monte Santa Maria Tiberina, until you meet , on the left near a curve, the junction with a gravel road. Leave the provincial road and turn down the CAI signposted path marked on tree trunks, you walk about 800 m to a crossroads and continue straight on, thus bypassing Poggio Rota (732 m). After about 400 m turn right onto a path that bypasses Poggio Cadinieri (711 m), and continues for about 700 m downhill until it re-joins the gravel road near Santa Ventura (576 m).

Panorama from Valdipetrina

Continue straight for about 800 m past the rural hamlet of Boschetto, until you reach the paved road near Valdipretrina (465 m) where you turn right, following from this point onward the signs for the CAI path n. 151 towards Croce di Castiglione. After a few meters you will meet a path on the left that goes slightly downhill for about 500 m until it reaches a gravel road at Canutellichio (488 m). Turn left, continue for about 800 m through cultivated fields until you come to a junction where you turn left, leaving the rural hamlet of Montecchio (460 m) to the right. Continue for about 1.5 km, passing the hamlet Benno, until you reach the intersection with the paved road. Here you leave the CAI path n. 151. Cross the road and continue straight on. After 400 m you will see on the left Dogana Vecchia (360 m), now used as a guest house where you can clearly see the ancient walls of medieval times. Continue straight on. After 200 m take a path that passes through the hamlet Casabianca (340 m) and after about 1.5 km reaches the historic village of San Secondo (278 m), the destination of this itinerary.

It We meet the paved road again near a curve (590 m). Turn right and, following the directions of the CAI path n. 150, continue along the road for about 400 m, until you reach the fork on the road towards Ciciliano. at a fork to the right, indicated by CAI signs, with a path that goes into the woods, at Fontino (580 m). Leave the paved road and start walking uphill along a narrow path that was once one of the access roads to the village for those who came from this direction.
